Dear Families of Brentfield,

I hope you all had an enjoyable half term. In our safeguarding coffee morning last term, parents said that online safety was one of the main areas they were concerned about. Many parents (including myself) felt they are not up to date with the current online games and technology our children are using today. Parents suggested that we do some further workshops for them to develop their skills and knowledge in this area. I am delighted to inform you that Miss Shabani has arranged for the school to work alongside Childnet International who will be in the school on Monday 4th March.

Coffee Morning Monday 4th March at 9am

Please join us to work with experts who will share ways of how to keep children safe when playing online games and using the internet.

We will be celebrating Book Week next week. Miss Firoozyar and her team have planned an exciting week to further develop the children's love of reading. As a school we will be looking at the book The Kindness Quilt and exploring what kindness means to us. We will also be dressing up as our favourite book characters on Friday 8th March. This year we will be asking for a donation to give to Book Aid International a charity who give books to children across Africa.

Momo Challenge – This is a dangerous internet challenge that parents need to be aware of. It presents children a series of dangerous potentially life threatening risky acts. Momo appears on sites or apps like WhatsApp, Facebook and Youtube, sometimes in conjunction with children's' videos meant to depict the popular game Fortnite or the children's show character Peppa Pig. I will be talking to children in Years 4, 5, and 6 next week about this. Please talk about this dangerous challenge at home. An information sheet is attached on the back.
