PSHE This week we will be thinking about our experiences of lockdown.	Complete the emotive statements Something I enjoyed about lockdown...  Something I didn't enjoy about lockdown...  When I am upset, it helps when I....  I find it hard to keep 2m distance when...  This pandemic has changed... (How I feel about school/life/family etc.).  At the end of a phrase, you may want to say more.	Develop resilience – We need to notice our thoughts but not necessarily be led by them. Not everything our mind tells us is true. Write down in three separate circles things, which our mind tells us, which are true, things, which might be true but not necessarily, and things it tells us which are not true. For example: True – my foot hurts. False – The teacher hates me, Might not be true: - I am no good at maths, It is important to recognise that our initial response that we hear in our brain is not always the truth –	Find the new normal – How will our new school day be? What do we all need to keep ourselves safe, calm and positive? Come up with your new normal timetable.  Include stops for jokes, games, fun as well as maths and English etc.  The belief we can make a difference and we have strengths we can draw on in times of challenge.	Imagine you overheard someone talking about you – what would you want them to say about you?	Make a glitter bottle – Our heads are like the glitter and when we do our breathing techniques the mind settles just like the glitter: https://www.omhwc.org.uk/education

		but a feeling and we don't need to react to it – but be aware of it. Sometimes it can help to imagine you are the sky and your thoughts are the clouds just floating.
Science This week we will be
Computing This week we will be
Humanities This week we will be
Arts This week we will be learning about Expressionism.	Expressionism We will be exploring the term expressionism and how it can be used to describe various art forms. We will be looking at how artists use their platform to express their feelings.	Today we will be exploring how to draw and blend colours in waves. We will also practice sketching from a vanishing point.	Today we will be exploring how Lockdown has affected us and the feelings it has sparked. We will be using these feeling to create our own artwork	Today we will continue our artwork and focus on the use of complimentary colours to help our work stand out.
