What will I know about living in the wider world by the end of this topic?

- To understand what risky behaviours are.
- To understand homelessness and the reasons for it.
- To explain what hidden homelessness is.

Homelessness is devastating, dangerous and isolating. It can be caused by many factors and can have many effects on people's lives.

Not all people who are homeless are rough sleepers. They may sleep in cars, on relatives' sofas or in temporary accommodation like hotels/B and B and hostels. These are not permanent options. This is known as 'hidden homelessness'.

Shelters are a warm place for people to stay so they do not have to sleep outside.

Soup kitchens and foodbanks offer hot meals to people who are homeless.

Places of worship like churches, mosques and temples also provide hot meals.

Sometimes people can manipulate others into doing a behaviour that can be risky.

To pressure someone into doing something they do not want to do, people may use certain tactics.

Flattery - being overly complimentary and giving insincere praise.

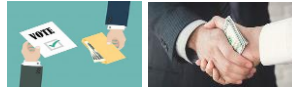

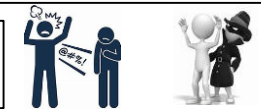

Risky activities can include: smoking, drinking alcohol, stealing, using other drugs, violence and other illegal behaviours.

Too good to be true offers - when someone says they will give or do something that doesn't seem possible.

Threats - when someone says something bad will happen if what they want isn't done.

Bribery - being offered something in return for doing something.
