

Evaluation of West London Zone Early Intervention Programme

Information Sheet for Children

Institute of Education

Who are we?

We are a team of researchers at a university called UCL Institute of Education.
We study how children learn and how we can make learning better and fairer for everyone.

What is our study about?

We are helping West London Zone learn how they can help children learn better and be happier.

What do I have to do?

Not very much.
We will do all the hard work with information about you that West London Zone already use.
They will share that information about you with us so that we can study it.
You might be asked to answer some questions later in the school year – but you don't have to if you don't want to.

What will you do with the information?

We will keep it safe and secure.
We might share a small part of it with the part of the government that runs schools to add to what we can learn.
We will share what we learn, but it will never include your name or your school's name.

Do I have to take part?

We hope you don't mind being part of the study but it's up to you.
It's not a problem if you don't choose to take part and you won't be treated differently whichever way you decide.
If you are not happy to take part, then speak with your parent, carer or teacher so that they can let us know.

If you have any questions, please ask your parent, carer or teacher to get in touch with us. Thank you very much!

For more information, please visit this website with a parent, carer or teacher:
<https://www.ucl.ac.uk/legal-services/privacy/ucl-general-research-participant-privacy-notice>

